1 The scale of fees now paid to the Senior Surgeon for examining the medical reports of proposers for Insurance in the official and public branches is as under:-

Official Branch.

First proposals ..	Re.1 for each medical report.
Further proposals and optional proposals.	Rs.1-8-0 for each report.

Public Branch.

Proposals of the value of Rs.500 and under.	Re.1 for each report.
Proposals of the value above Rs.500. ..	Rs.2 for each report.

2 At the above rates, in the four months from January to April 1924, the Senior Surgeon received Rs.687-8-0 for his work for the Official Branch and Rs.1,430/- for his work for the Public Branch. In all, therefore, he was paid Rs.2,117-8-0 and this works out to a monthly average of Rs.529-6-0.

3 The number of proposals for Insurance is on the increase and the average remuneration to the Senior Surgeon in future is not likely to be less than what it has been in the four months from January to April 1924. If anything, it is likely to be more than the present level in view of the fact that Public Insurance is becoming very popular and there is, accordingly, a very steady and substantial increase in the number number of proposals received in the Public Branch.

4 It has to be considered whether a remuneration of Rs.500 or more per month should be paid to the Senior Surgeon for his work for the Insurance Office.

K. In their proposal made in August 1921, the Insuranc Committee had recommended a monthly consolidated allowance of Rs.200 to the Senior Surgeon but, it was not accepted in the circumstances explained in my note dated 21st September 1921. Subsequently, in November 1922, the Committee submitted a further recommendation for paying the Senior Surgeo for his work of scrutinising the medical reports relating to first proposals on the Official side for which he was not being paid till then and this was also approved by Government. It is doubtful if the Committee intended to pay the Senior Surgeon at the rates proposed by them, irrespective of the volume of work and also irrespective of the need for a monthly maximum in the event of the number of reports to be scrutinised by him being very large. It seems to me that a monthly payment of Rs.500 or more to the Senior Surgeon is too high a remuneration to be paid to him whatever may be the quantity of work to be done by him. It is desirable to impose a limitation by fixing a maximum or, better still, by sanctioning a fixed rate of monthly fee

1 fee for the whole work to be done by him. I think a monthly rate of Rs.250 would be sufficient.

5 Dr. Mylvaganam is in his 55th year and if it is decided to alter the method of paying the Senior Surgeon for his Insurance work, it will be convenient to introduce the new arrangement when there is a change of incumbents.

6 I would, in these circumstances, suggest that the Insurance Committee may be requested to report how the existing arrangement has worked and whether they consider it necessary to recommend any change in it.

Read letter No.Fl.1685/G.F.36-24-7, dated 19th September 1924, from Government asking to obtain and submit the opinion of the Insurance Committee as to how the present scale of fees paid to the Senior Surgeon for scrutinizing the proposals has worked in relation to the volume of work and whether any change is considered desirable.

Read also letter No.C.1045, dated 24th October 1924, from the Senior Surgeon representing that in view of the insurance work that he has to attend to out of office hours, if any change is called for it is in the direction of improving the renumeration hitherto paid to the Senior Surgeon.

RESOLUTION:-- As it was reported that the increase in the number of proposals during the past few quarters could not be regarded as normal but was due to certain temporary caused such as the rush of proposals from menials, etc., the Committee consider that the existing rates may be continued for six months more by which time further statistics may be collected and a final report sent to -- Government for necessary orders.
